The DIMMER VIEW

Your Right to Freedom

(Editor's Note: Veteran entertainer Dennis Day, known for his career in lighthearted comedy and song, recently appeared before the Los Angeles City Council to strike a serious note of praise for the Bill of Rights. The 187th celebration year observance of the Bill of Rights in December 10 through 16, with Dec. 15 being the anniversary date of the document.)

When I receive a bill, I expect to pay for it and that is the way I personally feel about America's Bill of Rights. I feel you do too. I wish I could include all Americans.

In my 39-year entertainment career, I have spent most of my time performing lighthearted comedy and song. I would like to strike a few serious notes of praise for our Bill of Rights. It is the bedrock of our liberties that belong to the people of this great country and that cannot be denied by our government. Some 187 years ago, the founders of this nation sealed into the lives of Americans, then and forever, the first 10 amendments to the Constitution. These freedoms, treasured by Americans, and passed on to our future generations, not only secure the best we know and love in the American way, they perpetuate it. They are the beacon of hope and opportunity and security to the peoples of other countries all over the world.

Today, even more so than 187 years ago, we need the strength and support of our statement of human freedoms. We need to protect them — for every day they are being asserted — and not always by well-intentioned Americans. Every day they are being tested. Somehow, they endure.

Free speech, press and religious freedom, the right to due process of law — these and other important rights are to often taken for granted by the vast majority of Americans, including my family and myself. The right to keep and bear arms and to protection from double jeopardy and self-incrimination — when these rights directly touch our lives, only then are we aroused and ready to fight.

Other rights, like the 10th amendment guaranteeing states' rights and the second amendment that concerns the quartering of soldiers in a citizen's house, seem somewhat remote to us.

At one extreme, we have witnessed fellow Americans aroused to an awesome fighting force by the attack on Pearl Harbor. We have seen them, just as dedicated in purpose yet moved in very small numbers throw their own bodies in the path of troop convoys headed for Viet Nam. In between these extremes and peripherally, average Americans are accustomed to expressing their true feelings when aroused.

But if we beome lazily accustomed to our human rights, if we let them sleep, chances multiply that we may jeopardize them. That is why it is important we refresh ourselves on our rights and participate in commemorations of our history which remind us how vital our freedoms are.

How can I forget the Bill of Rights in my family! Dennis Jr. was born during Bill of Rights Week in 1948 and yes, I have as many children as the Bill of Rights has amendments — 10. I learned from a master to recognize a bargain when I see one. Jack Benny was known for preaching and practicing frugality in his public life.

To me, our Bill of Rights has to be the biggest bargain Americans ever experienced and they collect handsome dividends from it all of their lives. I have traveled all over the world. Compared to America, I assure you I have yet to find any country with less injustice, less insecurity or less unhappiness. I have never found any country with more of everything than America.

Roadrunners Set to Aid Needy 1000

Operation 1000, the San Diego project that brings Christmas to 1000 needy San Diego families, is being brought closer to Lemon Grove thanks to the effort of a local car club and some local businessmen.

The Roadrunners Club, a group of Lemon Grove-Spring Valley residents, will be setting up a drop off point for community residents who wish to contribute to Operation 1000.

On Thursday, December 14, between 7-10 p.m., residents can come by the Winchell's Donut House at 7863 Broadway and drop off a donation of canned goods, usable toys or cash. While there, residents can take part in the other activities.

"We hope for a big response," said Phil Giamanco of the Roadrunners. "We hope the community will come out and support something like this."

Giamanco said there has been "a very good response" in the past and he is hoping for an even bigger response this year.

To attract people to stop by and donate, Giamanco said that Santa will be passing out badges with a slogan such as "I Gave My Can." Also on hand that night will be a display of police vehicles. Giamanco said the families that are recipients of the donations are indeed needy. "I'm surprised," he said, "that they get along all year."

The victim, Donald Clay, of 1202 Koe st., was reportedly shot after an argument with occupants of another auto at the Massachusetts and Imperial avenues in Lemon Grove according to police.

Clay was shot several blocks from the site of the argument and crawled to a driveway in the 1300 block of Woodrow ave. in Lemon Grove, where he was found and taken to Paradise Valley Hospital, according to investigators.

L.G. Council Hearing Set On Underground Utilities

The Lemon Grove City Council approved the nominations of Ruth Pfister as a city planning commissioner replacing Joe Hobbs who resigned in October when he announced he was leaving the city. She takes office immediately.

Council also conducted 2 public hearings, approved 8 of 9 proposed resolutions and approved 5 new ordinances—2 of which were offered as the first reading.

Council continued the December 5 meeting to December 12 at which time it will reconvene at the L.G. Little League Baseball park in Monterey Heights to view with officers of the league the proposed improvements they are planning with the $35,000 council approved for them out of the City's $204,000 in revenue sharing funds.

The hearing Tuesday on budgeting $210,000 of block grant funds brought dissention only on landscaping Broadway center islands from Imperial west to the freeway on ramp thus bringing the $265,000 estimate closer to the $210,000 available. Other block grants projects included 2 traffic signals at $60,000 each, 4 sidewalk projects in the commercials area, $33,000, curbs, gutters and sidewalk in commercial fringe areas, $70,000 and parking and landscaping on the west side of Imperial between Broadway and Central.

The other hearing had to do with preparing ordinance regarding regulations for the abatement of dangerous buildings.

A resolution set for December 18 the date for public hearing for an underground utility district on Broadway from Olive st. to Massachusetts. The project will be financed by public utility companies but proprety owners will be responsible for converting service from their buildings out to the new underground lines at their own expense.

Also approved was a resolution to apply for $45,555 to complete development of the Berry st. Park.

Others approved: Compensation for disaster service workers—in case of disaster; Funds for sidewalks on Massachusets ave.; funds for drainage and parking on Main st.; funds for replacing of substandard fire hydrants; support of Regional Criminal Justice Planning Board, and to further adoption of various elements of the County Code. Rejected was revenue sharing funds for landscaping already rejected in block grant consideration.

Council amended its zoning ordinance pertaining to division of R-1A properties; modified its speed laws on several streets; adopting the same procedure as the county on regulatory business licenses.

The next regular meeting (after the Tuesday meeting at the Little League Park) will be Monday, December 18 at the L.G. Community Center.

3 S.V. Suspects Nabbed In Stolen Goods Roundup

A Spring Valley man and his wife were among 13 persons arrested on suspicion of possession of or receiving stolen merchandise and other related crimes.

Mark Flury, 18, a mechanic, and his wife Margaret, were served with warrants at their residence, 9202 Kenwood dr. in the Casa de Oro area Thursday morning.

Also charged was Robert H. Pfau, 19, of 9152 Orville st., Spring Valley.

In all, 40 felony warrants were carried by 150 officers of various jurisdictions in addition to the 13 apprehended, 8 were discovered already in custody and 2 had fled the area.

Those charged had sold items to a police-operated "furniture store" at 3102 E. 16th st., National City.

The store, W & F Furniture Co., operated by sheriff's detectives, specialized in water beds. It opened on July 1 and the word was "leaked" that the firm would "fence" stolen goods. The first fence customer came in on the 4th day of business. All transactions were recorded on videotape recorders.

Some items bought included a $12,000 Datsun 280-Z sports car for $350; a federal payroll check made out for $3,400 for $85 and a $300 stereo set for $25.

The operation was said to cost about $9,100 and 41 suspects were identified. 104 items worth $155,000 were recovered.

Officers are still tracking down the remaining suspects at large named in the remaining warrants.

High Cost of Newsprint

Newspapers stacked for pickup for recycling, worth about $10, were stolen Wednesday by a white male about 40 years of age.

The papers belonged to the Casa de Oro PTA and were stacked 10 feet high at the corner of Agua Dulce Herdfield way.

A resident, driving by, witnessed the theft and reported it to PTA officers.

District Triples Rate For New Home Tie-Ins

The Otay Municipal Water District has tripled its rate for new home hook-ups in the past three weeks.

The water district's board of directors voted to raise the one-time sewer tie-in from $800-$1,200 and then a week ago raised it again from $1,200 to $2,500.

The charge will help the district replace funds it intends to use to help homeowners pay for high tax bills.

The director also approved a rebate plan that would lower sewer tax obligations of the homeowners in Sewer Improvement District 18 by as much as 60 per cent. Tax bills for sewerage bond debts were as high as $2,000.

The rebate program, if approved by Otay's legal counsel, will contiue next year and every year until enough homes are built in the district to make improvement district debt more affordable according to board chairman Ralph Chapman.

District 18 and Water Pipeline Improvement District 20 are largely undeveloped districts in Rancho San Diego where early residents have been forced to bear the brunt of interest payments on bonds for financing improvements.

Some residents of the two improvement districts were expecting substantial drops in their tax bills this fall because of Proposition 13 not realizing that Prop. 13 exempted previously approved bond debt from its tax-limiting stipulations.

To add to the homeowners' woes, home construction in the Rancho San Diego has been halted by a moratorium until adequate sewerage treatment facilities can be built. New homes will share the burden of the bond debt for sewer and water improvements.

Woman Dies In Truck-Auto Crash in L.G.

Alma May Klein, 78, of 260 Woodman st., San Diego, was pronounced dead at the scene of a traffic accident shortly after 8 p.m. Monday.

Lemon Grove police officers responded after the car in which she was a passenger collided with a parked tractor-trailer at 2100 Imperial near Massachusetts ave.

She suffered massive head injuries.

The car was driven by Ferdinan Ludwig Reissner, 39, of 260½ Woodman st. Mrs. Klein was his landlord, it was indicated.

Police reported the Klein vehicle was southbound when the accident occurred. L.G. firemen removed the body with the aid of a "Jaws of Life" device which spreads compacted metal.

Reissner was charged with felony drunk driving and vehicle manslaughter, officers said.

Food Stamp Allowance To Increase in Jan.

Low-income families will be getting a cost-of-living increase in their food stamp allotments starting Jan. 1, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker Foreman said.

The increase reflects the rise in the cost of food from March to September of this year. For a family of 4, this translates into a 5.2 percent increase in their food stamps.

Between January and July, states will be phasing in new allotments and income eligibility limits required by the Food Stamp Act of 1977. As a result, some states will be issuing food stamps under both old and new program rules while this transition is taking place.

Under the program rules being phased out, a family of 4 with no net income will have their allotment increased from the present $182 to $192. The maximum net monthly income a family of 4 may have and still be eligible for food stamps will increase from $607 to $640.

Under new program rules, a family of 4 with no net income will receive a $191 food stamp allotment. The net monthly income limit for a food stamp family will be $542, or about $6,500 per year. This is nearly $1,200 per year lower than the net income limits under the old program rules that are being phased out.

Primary wage-earners who quit their jobs without good cause would find their families ineligible for food stamps for two months under a proposal made by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Coral Foreman.

"The proposed regulation will ensure that an able-bodied head of household cannot quit a job in order to start receiving food stamps," Foreman said.

Foreman said that the new rule is consistent with the desire of the Administration and of Congress to assure that those not in need of food stamps not receive them while doing more to get stamps to those who truly are in need, such as the elderly and the working poor.

There's An Answer!

COINCIDENCE OR ANSWERED PRAYER?

Q. A friend told me to pray about any worry and an answer would surely come within nine days. Well, the next day I started asking God to bless me with a husband and a father for my 5-year-old daughter. On the 9th day my little girl's father called me. He said, "I don't know why I'm calling, but I just had to call." I have not heard from him since, and it has been a year. Something tells me this was not a mere coincidence. Am I wrong to think so positive? Do you feel this man will become my husband?

A. There is, I think, no reality in the belief that an answer to prayer will come within nine days. Indeed, it could come at once or at any time.

The fact that your child's father telephoned could very well indicate that your prayers were operative. But the additional fact that you have not heard from him again would seem to indicate that he is not really interested.

You are never wrong to think positively. Put the matter of a husband in God's hands and in His own good time He will answer your prayer.

WON'T ADMIT HE'S GETTING OLD

J. I'm really worried about my husband because this "age" business has gotten to be an obsession. He retired and immediately went to work part-time. He says he's not a senior citizen, will not admit he's getting older and will not enter into activities that include anyone who is old. At home he takes a nap, sits and plays with the dog, watches sports on TV or reads. I've joined Senior Citizen activity groups. He says I'm getting old because I am with these old people, and that's all I talk about. I hate living like this, not enjoying the same things.

A. I once had a friend named Frank Bering who at 80 was General Manager of the Sherman House in Chicago, a hotel with some 1,500 rooms. I asked him one time if he felt that he was getting old.

He replied, "I don't know. I have never given it any thought." Then he added a piece of advice: "Live your life and forget your age."

So, actually, it isn't a question of admitting or not admitting it. Rather, just forget it and live your life. Fill it full. Mingle with people of all ages. Be ageless.

If your husband enjoys working part-time and doesn't feel old — isn't that fine? Learn to enjoy some of the sports and books your husband does, and maybe he will get interested in some of your activities.

Stamp Program Changes Set

Food stamp recipients will no longer have to purchase stamps from the government due to regulations changes mandated by the Food Stamp Act of 1977. According to the change, recipients will no longer have to pick up the stamps, instead, the stamps will be mailed to them.

Under the old program, most recipients would pay a certain amount, depending upon their income and other considerations, to the government. In return they would receive Food Stamps worth more than they had paid for.

Under the new procedure, recipients will no longer purchase the stamps. They will simply get roughly what used to be their "bonus" of free stamps. Also under the new program, recipients will have the stamps mailed directly to their residence.

Federal regulations require that stamps mailed directly to Food Stamp recipients be mailed on different days during the first ten days of each month. Therefore, in January 1979, some recipients will receive their stamps later than usual. Afater January, each recipient's stamps will be delivered at regular monthly intervals, approximately the same date each month.

Garage Sales Exempt From State Sales Tax

Sales tax on garage sales? Not likely, if the seller is just an occasional salesman according to State Board of Equalization member Iris Sankey.

Sankey said that sales tax must be collected from the businessman or professional seller but not from the amateur of occasional seller.

When an individual or group buys, gathers or otherswise acquires merchandise for the express purpose of selling at a garage, patio, or yard sale at a residential location, that person or group is considered to be in the business of selling. In such cases, Sankey said, a seller's permit is required and sales taxes are applicable.

However, when an individual once or twice a year sells at his residence miscellaneous personal property acquired for his own family use in day-to-day living and the property is no longer useful, the sale is considered occasional and is not subject to sales tax.

Sankey said that the Board of Equalization staff is well aware of the distinction and makes every effort to license professional sellers. She also cautioned that cities and counties have their own specific requirements for business licenses, and that persons should contact their local agencies before undertaking such sales.

"It has always been my belief that teaching is the most demanding but most rewarding profession of all," Mott said. "At the core of this belief has been the necessity to see beyond the "child-that-is' to 'child-that-can-be' and to adjust my help and compassion to liberating that 'child-of-the-future'."

Ballet Announces Young Dancers For 'Nutcracker'

The California Ballet Company's annual production of "The Nutcracker" has introduced an impressive number of accomplished performers to the theatre-going public since its inception in 1971.

This year's production in the Civic Theatre on December 22, 23, 24 and 26 and in the East County Performing Arts Center on December 16 and 17 is no exception.

Two gifted dancers will appear alternately in this year's nine performances.

Gayla Carpter of Poway and Debora Rumney of Tierrasanta have earned the roles in open auditions involving 50 youngsters at the California Ballet Centre in Kearny Mesa. Gayla, an eighth grade student at St. Michael's Catholic School in Poway, has taken ballet lessons for eight years. Debora, who had her first dance class at age three, attends the seventh grade at Farb Middle School.

Another featured role will be filled for the fifth straight year by Frank Doyle, a seasoned actor with an impressive list of stage credits. In San Diego since late in 1969, Mr. Doyle has appeared in many Old Globe, Starlight and San Diego Opera productions. His lead role in "Waiting for Godot" won an Atlas nomination for Best Actor.

From the Long Island, New York area, Mr. Doyle has performed with numerous noted theatre personalities, including Frankie Laine in "Christmas in the Land of Oz."

His theatre background includes directing ("Seven Year Itch," "You Can't Take It With You"), stage managing and lighting design.

In "The Nutcracker" as Herr Drosselmeyer, he portrays the warm, happy character whose magical talents create the fantasy of the famous growing Christmas tree, giant mice, the Snow Kingdom and the Land of the Sugarplum Fairy.

Extension Courses To Begin in Jan.

Green thumb skills, acting, and a study of names are just a few of the UCSD extension courses being offered in January.

Help for keeping potted plants alive that are sent as holiday gifts will be offered by Jeffrey Kent or Pat Welsh in two courses. Kent is teaching "Upgrading Green Thumb Skills: Innovative Approaches to Indoor Plant Care," beginning January 10. Welsh will teach a one-evening class, February 5, called "Let's Get Potted!"

Actress Marya Stevens Brunson will conduct basic and intermediate classes beginning January 8 and 10. Sessions will include exercises in breath and body control as well as the discipline of acting.

How we got our last names and what they mean will be the subject of Lou Stein's "Roots of Our American Names" beginning January 9. Stein is considered an expert on American family names.

Questions about these classes or any other extension classes can be directed to Sue Pondrom or Kristy Higdon, 452-3430.

This Week's RECIPE

Stuffed Pork Butterfly Chops

6 butterfly pork chops, cut 1 to 1¼ inches thick
¼ pound fresh pork sausage
¼ cup finely chopped celery
¼ cup finely chopped onion
2 cups semi-soft bread cubes
¼ teaspoon sage
3 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
Salt and pepper, if desired

Make pockets in each chop by cutting into each side ("wing") of chop (parallel to surface of chop), beginning at center and cutting toward fat edge, but not to edge. Lightly brown sausage in frying pan, separating into small pieces. Add celery and onion and cook 5 to 10 minutes. Combine sausage mixture with bread cubes, salt and sage. Add water, mixing thoroughly. Fill both pockets in each chop with 1½ to 2 tablespoons stuffing mixture. Brown chops in lard or drippings, browning unstuffed side first. Place in baking dish or roasting pan (13 x 9 inches). Cover with foil securing edges around rim of pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 45 minutes. Uncover and continue baking 15 minutes or until done. Season with salt and pepper if desired. 6 servings.

Agriculture Secretary Calls For Food Program Impovement

New regulations to improve the summer food program which provides meals to children from needy areas during summer months when school is out has been proposed by Acting Secretary of the Agriculture Carol Foreman.

Local government agencies, schools, churches, social service organizations and summer camps sponsor the program. They buy or prepare the meals that are served to the children. The sponsors receive financial and administrative help from the states, which, in turn, are reimbursed by the agriculture department's food and nutrition service.

Under the proposed changes:

— Sponsors would be reimbursed for administrative costs by the states on the basis of an approved budget, rather than on a per-meal basis.

— Non-government sponsors who contract to buy more than $10,000 worth of meals will be required to set up a special account to assure that food service companies supplying the meals are paid on time.

— Each state agency must inspect all facilities where meals are prepared during the first four weeks of program operations.

— State agencies are to encourage sponsors to use small and minority-owned businesses as suppliers and will provide these businesses with information on financial and technical assistance.

— States may safely make advance commitments for their summer program because they will be assured of receiving at least 80% of either the administrative funds earned during the prior fiscal year or the estimated budget for the current fiscal year, whichever is less.

— State agencies must outline their priorities for program expansion, their plan for for training food service management company representatives and health inspectors and their procedures for soliciting comments from the public on state program management and administrative plans.

— State agencies will be required to provide more detailed plans and reports on their efforts to expand the summer programs in rural areas.

Contractor's License Board Facing 5-Month Backlog

The State Contractors' License Board is facing a five-month license application backlog as a result of recent limitations on state spending, according to Dr. Charles W. Hostler, immediate past board chairman.

Dr. Hostler discussed the license backlog, the moratorium issue, and the recent creation of a new license classification for solar heating systems Saturday at a seminar for building trades contractors sponsored by the Cal-State Contractors License Schools.

"There is no immediate relief anticipated for our understaffed processing department," said Hostler, currently serving as public member of the board. "Lack of funding from the state has prevented the board for effectively coping with the thousands of applications we receive every month."

The seminar, entitled "Understanding Your Rights and Liabilities Under the Contractors' Licensing Law," was designed to help building trades contractors better understand the growing tangle of state consumer legislation.

Featured speaker was Samuel E. Spital, former deputy attorney general, and considered one of California's leading authorities in this field of law. Former San Diego City Councilman Lee Hubbard served as master of ceremonies.

The backlog on license applications is not anticipated to clear for many months unless the state allocates emergency funds, according to one state licensing board official.

Rumors of a possible license moratorium has caused concern among San Diego and Imperial County building trades contractors.

"In response to the overload, the board met in San Diego to discuss the issue," said Hostler. "One member did suggest a moratorium on licensing until the backlog cleared, however, we were advised by the deputy attorney general present that the action would be ill-advised and the suggestion was tabled.

"Unfortunately the moratorium rumor spread and many would-be contractors have rushed to enroll in contractors licensing schools," said Hostler.

Hostler made it clear in his seminar address that no moratorium is pending or will be considered by the board.

Over 138,000 licensed building trades contractors work in California and 3,000 new applications in 38 different categories are received each month by the State Licensing Board. In addition, the board attempts to mediate and complaints filed against a contractor by a consumer.

Gallery Showing To Appear Jan.

The San Diego Art Institute offers a January Juried Membership Exhibition from Jan. 9 - Feb. 4 Donna Leavitt, San Diego artist and teacher, will select the work to appear in the show.

Each month a different guest-juror performs the sometimes painful task of constructing a cohesive exhibition from entries. With membership in excess of 750, work submitted reflects a wide diversity.

Featured in the Gallery will be the oils of artist Betty Riis, entitled "The Celebration of a Year's Work".

Betty Riis is a representational artist who specializes in figure painting and portraiture. She views the children and other people in her world with an interested and often humorous eye.

An active participant in the world of art, she is a member of The Fine Arts Society Art Guild and the San Diego Art Institure. She has had many showings of her work and has been the recipient of numerour awards. She studied art at U.C.S.D. and in subsequent years with many other fine teachers. ## Ask Your C.H.P.

C.H.P Capt. C. M. Douglas

Last time Capt. Douglas let his readers know about traffic collisions. This week he discusses new CHP cars and the change in county road patrols.

If you have a question, no matter how insignificant it may appear to you, ask it. It could save your life—or at least save you a citation.

Address your questions to this newspaper, and allow several weeks for your question to appear.

This week's question:

When I was driving through Los Angeles last week I saw a Chevrolet Camaro Z-28 marked like a CHP car. Was this some kind of joke?

Capt. Douglas' answer:

No, not a joke at all. Our department is experimenting with different makes of vehicles for future use. Current projections show that cars of the future will be smaller and have less power, so the CHP wants to gather data on some of the smaller vehicles available. It is quite possible that in the early 1980's a Camaro may be the largest and most powerful vehicle available.

This week's question:

I understand that in January, the Highway Patrol will not patrol County roads any more but only freeways. How will this affect Spring Valley? What will happen if an accident occurs in a residential area?

Capt. Douglas' answer:

We will continue to patrol some county roads in Spring Valley. The intent of the program is to focus enforcement on freeways, state highways and county roads where the majority of the accidents are occurring. Basically, the CHP statewide will patrol only 22 per cent of roadway miles, but on this 22 per cent, 94 per cent of the vehicle mileage is recorded resulting in 78 per cent of the accidents. We will continue to respond to calls on all county roads. As an example, in Spring Valley you will see many more CHP units patrolling state route 94, and Sweetwater rd. There will actually be just as many officers in the area, but they will be concentrated on a few major roads instead of spread out thinly over the entire area.

Hansel and Gretel To Be School Play

The 5th and 6th grade students of San Altos Elementary school, 1750 Madera st., Lemon Grove, will present a Christmas adaption of Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel."

The play is scheduled for Wednesday at 730 p.m. in the school auditorium following a short PTA business meeting.

At the conclusion of the play, which is open to public, cookies and other refreshments will be served.

United Way/CHAD Hits 82% East County Lags at 75.4

UNITED WAY-CHAD volunteers reported that their efforts so far this fall have amassed 82.1 per cent of the largest Combined Campaign goal in San Diego County history.

Contributions and pledges to date, disclosed at an "EOM" (end-of-month) report luncheon at Islandia-Hyatt House, total $3,342,859. The 1978 campaign goal is $10,167,832 — some 11 per cent greater than campaign results a year ago.

Leading the pace of the ongoing drive was Region 3, whose chairman, Jack W. Goodall, Jr., president of Foodmaker, Inc., reported contributions of $1,366,017, or 94.2 per cent of goal "with volunteers still hard at work."

Region 3 comprises business establishments and professionals in the North City area, Clairemont Mesa, Kearny Mesa, and Mission Valley/West.

Pat Hyndman, president of United Way and himself a former United Way campaign chairman, called on 200 community leaders and volunteers at the meeting to maintain the pace and thus assure San Diego County's third, successive over-the-top UNITED WAY/CHAD drive.

In addition to Region 3's total which topped the reports, other divisions announced the following results:

South County 90.6 per cent.

Region 1 (San Diego Center City, financial district, airport and Park West area)) 86.6 per cent.

Region 2 (La Jolla, Point Loma and beach communities 85.9 per cent.

Public Service 81.0 per cent.

East County 75.4 per cent.

Region 4 (Hillcrest, North Park, Lake Murray/College, Mission Valley/East, Southeast) 72.7 per cent.

North County 71.7 per cent.

Professionals (accountants, attornevs, dentists, physicians, hospitals, clergy, general professional) 59.7 per cent.

Individual gifts 44 per cent.

America's Needs

Dear Sir:

Susan and myself have seen how a society of American people really need the newspaper business.

Without the newspaper we would not be informed about hardly anything going on in today's world.

And since we are interested in politics and how the politicians are running the government, we have found that the newspaper business really keeps tabs on them for us. They either do a good job or else we Americans find out and then they're in real trouble.

Thank you for doing such a great job in reporting the news for we American readers.

Calif. Drivers To Increase By 7.8 Million

If you think the highways and byways of California are crowded now, hold on to your seat belt until the year 2005, when an estimated 7.8 million more drivers armed with 11.3 million more vehicles are expected to join you on your way to work.

These predictions, revealed in a projected vehicle registration and driver's license report issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles, are based on such factors as expected disposable income, gross national product, population, and age groups.

The report further assumes that the automobile will continue to be the basic form of transportation in Caliofrnia.

Vehicle registration figures from June 30, 1978 to June 30, 2005 represent an increase of 11,266,212 vehicles, or 62.64 percent. Vehicle registration figures include passenger and commercial vehicles, trailers and motorcycles.

The increase in licensed drivers for the same period represents an additional 6,830,000 drivers, or an increase of 45.93 percent.

The report also reveals that current average California licensed driver is 39.5 years old, and that there are nearly a million more male drivers than there are female: as of July, 1978 there were 7,910,460 male drivers, compared to 6,958,540 female drivers.

Chargers 40-Bears 7; Home Games End Sun.

During the game with the Chicago Bears Monday night at the S.D. Stadium, the home team played with such enthusiasm that someone asked Tank Younger, the Chargers assistant general manager, if Chicago was going to demand a urine drug test for his team.

The score at that point was 40-0 and the Chargers could do nothing wrong — give or take an interception or two.

The game ended, Howard Cosell notwithstanding, with the Chargers on the high end of a 40-7 score.

48,492 fans were in attendance but more than 3,899 stayed away probably encouraged by local telecast.

Quarterback Dan Fouts completed 16 of 24 passes for 269 yards. The Chargers' total was 332. Rookie John Jefferson made 7 receptions for 155 yards including a 42 yard touchdown pass, Larry Burton, newcomer to the Chargers' squad, caught 3 passes for 59 yards including a 59-yard bomb.

The defense was invincible. The Bears had 7 first downs, made 112 yards and had their quarterback sacked 5 times.

It was a glorious night for Monday night football telecast nationally. The Charger must have impressed millions of fans.

Not so impressed were owners of 51 cars towed away by police. The cars were parked on access roads leading to the Stadium and improperly parked inside the Stadium. The gates were closed at 6:20 p.m. after 17,000 vehicles, said to be capacity, entered the facility.

The game started at 6 p.m. to accommodate ABC's Monday Night Football nationwide telecast. The parking is handled by Ace Auto Parks of which Evan Jones is owner.

The game created enough enthusiasm among Charger fans that a near-capacity audience may view the Sunday game when the Chargers are visited by the Seattle Seahawks.

Gametime is 1 p.m.

Sporting News Likes Hargrove

In the December 2 issue of "The Sporting News" Al Oliver of the Texas Rangers was quoted regarding new Padre first baseman Mike Hargrove, a former Ranger. Part of Oliver's quotes . . . "If we'd had some more players with Mike's attitude last season we'd have won. He came to play every day and he's unselfish . . . It is Mike Hargrove that this team is going to miss next season. And in more ways than just what he does on the field. Mike has the same qualities of a Bob Moose and a Roberto Clemente, two men I respected very much in Pittsburgh."

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

When you stop to think about it, invitin' Jimmy to come to San Diego and enjoy the festivities of the first annual Holiday Bowl might be doing him the biggest favor anybody's done for any member of the Carter family since George Washington Carver invented the peanut.

You'll notice the Republicans have invited their man to come visit for a spell. Jerry Ford will keynote the big doings at the Community Concourse luncheon the day before the game. He won't make the game, however. Probably an important golf date.

BYU and Naval Academy team captains and coaches will be honored guests at the luncheon along with all the presidents of all the universities of the Western Athletic Conference.

And since this is California, Ronnie could amble in anytime and do his "Get one for the gipper" bit. Mayor Pete Wilson will be out there back slapping and doing the host bit like a man facing reelection in less than two years. And even Harold Stassen has written for tickets.

It's not likely Jerry Brown will drop in. He knows better than to take unnecessary chances on the other fella's home court, and like it says up there somewhere, Mayor Pete will be out there working like a salesman on straight commission.

But no one mentions Jimmy. He could be sitting up there in the family quarters of the White House just waitin' for an invite to come on out here and enjoy our sunshine and hospitality. He could politic with BYU and cheer for Navy and have a helluva time away from the Far East, Middle East and frozen East.

Maybe nobody knows HOW to invite him. You just can't sit down and take pen in hand and write, "Dear Jimmy."

You have to wonder of anybody thought of inviting Jimmy. Sure, he's busy with world affairs, foreign policy and the declining buck, but sometime a day in the sun is almost as healthy and good for you as a bowl of chicken soup.

You can't help think he'd want to be here. Students and alumni of schools kicking off the Holiday Bowl are his kind of folks.

Brigham Young University is an All-American kind of place, full of God-fearing, hard-working, church-going, family-conscious students who graduate to become All-American tax paying, go-to-the-polls-and-vote alumni.

There's not a politician in the country who wouldn't love to shake hands, socialize, speak to and backslap a whole bunch of BYU supporters in a weekend of informal get togethers and prayer meetings. Being in San Diego the weekend of the 22nd could mean two, two and a half states in the next election.

And a lot of folks just plain forget it, but Jimmy went to the Naval Academy. He's the first Middie to make the White House.

Other Navy men have served as the skipper of the country in the past. Men like FDR and J.F.K. They knew the taste of salt coming off dancing white caps when a bit of weather chased the sun under cover.

But they didn't learn their deep water trade at the Naval Academy. They were war-time sailors, J.F.K. in PT Boats in WWII and FDR as the Assistant Secretary of the Navy in the first war to end all wars, and later as Commander in Chief of one helluva lot of voters in uniform.

There's books that tell you how to write to abbots, patriarchs, veterinarians and presidents. And you can find all that stuff in the footnotes of dictionaries.

The important thing is, one must suppose, to invite him before all the tickets run out and you have to offer him a seat in the upper level of the end zone.

To a lot of folks, Jimmy is a "good old boy" and they'd like to see him invited to San Diego's first annual Holiday Bowl.

And even a president can't go if he ain't been asked.

Outdoors & Travel

By E. L. "Buck" Rogers

A float trip is an interesting way to fish a stream because it combines leisurely travel, a different scenic vista around each bend and, an opportunity to fish waters which see little angling pressure.

For those who can afford it, a commercial float trip is the best way to go. For instance, I was glancing through Outdoor Adventure, a tour booklet put out by Braniff's Outdoor Council, and noted the following: Utah River Float, $310 per person for five days; Idaho Raft Trip, $359 per person for seven days; Arkansas Float Trip, $340 per person for four days. Now, all of these trips are good buys, and I can recommend each one of them. But, if you're a do-it-yourself type, I can tell you how to take a float trip in your own backyard for a fraction of this cost.

The first thing to do is select your stream. Every state has large scale county maps available for a nominal price. From a road map pick an area that has rivers flowing through it, and write your Department for maps of the counties desired.

With these in hand, select a stretch of river which is not bisected by many roads. Measure the river with a piece of string, and then plot this distance in miles with the map scale. In planning a day's float figure one mile per hour, if you plan to do some fishing along the way. Eight miles, therefore, is a good day's float.

Now, lay out your equipment. You'll need a canoe or flat-bottom boat for each two persons, life preservers, two paddles, a 20-foot line attached to the bow. Each person will need a sleeping bag, air mattress or foam pad, and a waterprooof ditty bag for personal effects. Tents are optional. If the weather is warm, a tarp spread over the sleeping area will suffice. Other equipment should include wire grill, solid grill, pots and pans, utensils, plates and tablewear, napkins, condiments, catsup, mustard, etc.

Meals should be planned in advance and placed either frozen or cold in small styrofoam chests filled with block ice. Bring along a separate supply of ice for before-dinner cocktails and to cool the beer. Include a camp axe to cut up driftwood, and a bag of charcoal and a can of fire starter in case wood is in short supply.

If you don't have canoes, paddles, and other gear, this equipment can be obtained from local rental firms or from resorts on more popular float streams.

You'll need two cars. If all gear will fit into one car or wagon, drive to the point of exit first and leave the empty car. Then drive to the entry site, unload, leave this car, and take off down river. In this way, you'll have transportation waiting for you when you arrive at your take off site.

Sept. Gas Usage Sets New Record

Motorists driving in California set new records for gasoline usage for September and the summer quarter.

Iris Sankey, member of the State Board of Equalization, said that although September was the first month since April to fall below the billion-gallon mark, it set a new mark for September (969.87 million gallons) and was the first quarter in which the 3-billion gallon figure was topped (3.02 billion gallons).

Sankey reported, however, that September gallonage represented the smallest year-to-year increase in the past 17 months, only 2.3 percent greater than September 1977, but a hefty 10.1 percent less than the preceding month of August, in which an all-time high for any month was set.

C.P.O. to Aid Lemon Grove In Study

Lemon Grove has asked the Comprehensive Planning Organization (CPO) for assistance in determining the shortest and safest way for students, kindergarten through the 8th grade to get to their respective schools.

CPO Project Director Janet Mika said this is the first such study in San Diego.

Mika said that with the study, the Lemon Grove school district may get other information above and beyond what it initially requested.

"We might find out that a child is going to a school farther away than he needs to." Mika said, however, that this is not the purpose of the study. "We're mainly looking at where the heavy student traffic is and where we could put crossing guards."

In order to find out which routes students take to school, Mike said that enrollment records will be completely computerized and analyzed to show which way the students should be going.

Mike said that students do not always go to school the way they should go. She said that shortcuts will have to be taken into consideration when the final proposal is delivered.

The project is expected to be completed in June of 1979 at an estimated cost of $3,800. At the time of completion, the CPO will make recommendations as to where crossing guards should be positioned. The Lemon Grove School District and Lemon Grove City Council will make the final decision on whether or not to act on the recommendations.

On this type of do-it-yourself float trip you'll have to do your cooking and wash the dishes afterward. But there's a big advantage. Even if you eat steak, ribs, and have wine with every meal, the overall cost will not exceed $30 per person for a weekend outing.

Amateur Fights; 10 Bouts Free at Coliseum Friday

There's a treat in store for boxing fans Friday when Danny Millsap presents 10 bouts of amateur gladiators beginning at 8:15 p.m. in his San Diego Coliseum.

The treat is the enthusiasm with which amateurs gladiate.

The additional treat is that it is open all free of charge. Women, children, men—everybody.

Those who wish may bring a can of food which will be distributed to a needy family by way of the S.D. Police Dept. Operation 1000 and the Logan Youth Center.

Among those carded to scrap are featherweights Gabriel Ortiz vs. Scott Baker; light-heavies Michael Barber vs. Shaw Corria and bantams Ernest Gizona vs. Tony Landa and Loius Rios vs. John Fabray.

Last Week

Last week the professionals held the spotlight. In the main event Zeffie Gongalez, 154 lbs., Pico Rivera, took a unaimous decision from Antonio Adame, 140, of Mexicali. Gonzalez dropped Adame in the 4th round with a solid left to the solar plexis for an 8-count. It was an excellent matchup but Adame couldn't untangle Gonzalez' boring-in style.

In a 4-rounder, Eric Bonilla, 140, of Paradise Hills won a unanimous decision of Sergio Nualarte, 136. Bonilla appears to be an improved scrapper and seems to think out his plan of operation. He is now 8-6.

Big, hulking 218 lbs. Robbie Bryant of Laguna Beach, won a split decision over Rahim Muhammad of Long Beach, 185½ lbs., in a 6-round heavyweight scrap.

John Morgan, 161 lbs. of L.A. drew blood when he inflicted an eye cut and won a decision over Steve Bentley, 160 lbs., of Perris. Bentley was penalized 2 points for low blows in each of the 2nd and 4th rounds but won in spite of the violations.

The Coliseum will hold its annual professioinal boxers' Awards Night Friday December 15 with 2 10-round matchups. Lightweight Marine Leni Provo meets Gene Miera and Welterweights Bert Lee and Mexico's Antonio Leyva will mix. In a 6 rounder. Mike "Little Animal" Rundell will be back to engage KO artist Lalo Hernandez.

Youngsters under 12, and ladies will be admitted free on the 15th. The Coliseum is at 15th and E sts. downtown.

Chicken and Col. Sanders Face-off At Fri. Ice Game

The San Diego Hawks are home for a 7:30 p.m. game with Phoenix Friday at the Sports Arena.

Equally important as the Roadrunners visit here is another confrontation. This one is between the KGB Chicken and the genuine Col. Sanders of Kentucky Chicken fame.

Both the colonel and the chicken are capable of extemporaneous performances so whatever happens on the ice between these two Friday may surprise everyone — including the 2 chicken persons.

At intermission, the Icettes, 18 pretty girls, will perform.

The Roadrunners have added Murray Keogan, 28, at center. He played with Phoenix in both the WHA and WHL eras and scored 35 goals in the WHA in 1974-75.

Goaltender Gary Nakrayko has been sent to the L.A. Blades for future considerations and rookie Defenseman Owen Lloyd is recovering from a cut that required 12 stitches. Strangely, his glove was not torn and he does not recall the injury occuring.

There are only 2 types of tickets and they are $3.50 and $5.50 and parking is free.

USD-USIU Hoopsters Meet Tonight at 8

Cross-town rival U.S. International U will visit the U of San Diego for a basketball game tonight at 8 in the USD Sports Center Gymnasium.

At long last the Toreros get the chance to play in their own building. USD has been forced to hold its preseason practices and games at local high schools in the area due to repairs of the floor at the Sports Center. The floor became warped following a flood from one of the resident apartments in the building.

The Toreros are coming off an impressive 76-69 victory over Tabor College. In that game junior, forward, Russell Jackson exploded for 19 points, 8 rebounds and a resounding dunk to pace the Toreros.

Assisting him were Frank Walsh and Earl Pierce, who tossed in 10 points each, a season high for both players.

USIU is coached by first year leader Mike McDonald. McDonald, a former assistant coach at the local university under Bob Kloppenberg, has his team playing fast break basketball after tracking down some of the best talent in the school's history. McDonald's team has the misfortune of playing its first eight games on the road. To date the Westerners have yet to win a game.

County to Participate in Blood Pressure Survey

San Diego is one of 26 counties statewide that has been chosen to help in a federally-funded study on high blood pressure, the Department of Health Services (DHS) has announced.

"High blood pressure is known as 'the silent killer' because many persons afflicted with it have no hint of illness until they suffer heart attacks or strokes," said Beverly Meyers, DHS Director.

In the course of the study, 70 interviewers working throughout the 26 sample counties will be interviewing over 18,000 households in an attempt to narrow down a contol group of 6,875 households. When this group is chosen, interviews and blood pressure measurements will be conducted on them for a period of 5 months.

California was one of four states to receive federal funds for the study, which is scheduled to continue into the 1980's. California study is part of a broad, $2.3 million federal project.

Dr. Alvin Leonard of DHS's Chronic Disease Control section and the primary investigator in the blood-pressure project urges household members to cooperate with the interviewers. Leonard said that interviewers have identification cards and letters attesting to their duties.

Things You Should Know About Taxes

(This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the Internal Revenue Service. The column answers questions frequently asked by Southern California taxpayers.)

Q. I am an employer and I would like to know what the federal government does with Federal Unemployment Taxes paid by employers?

A. The federal government distributes the Federal Unemployment Tax, also known as FUTA, to the states when their unemployment rate reaches a certain percentage level. The percentage rate varies in different areas.

Q. I am a single taxpayer over the age of 65 and I recently received notice from Fresno asking me to verify my account number. What is an account number, and why are they asking for this information when I already paid my taxes?

A. The notice you received from Fresno Service Center is a Form 5332, "Request for Verification of Name and Taxpayer Identifying Number." This form requests that you verify your name and/or Social Security Number which may have been incorrect or missing on statements filed by your bank or employer.

Employers, banks and other financial institutions must report to IRS wages, interest, dividends, etc., paid to individuals. This information is needed to process income tax returns. The notice you received is simply a request for information. It is not a verification of tax you have paid or any tax due.

Q. I worked overseas for the past three years. I have an extension to file my income tax return for 1977. Now that the President has signed the new law, when will my extension run out?

A. If you qualified for an extension to file you were automatically granted a further extension until February 15, 1979, when the President signed the new law. Contact your nearest IRS office or the U.S. Embassy or Consulate for more information.

Q. Is it true that I am not required to pay the fourth installment of my 1978 Estimated Tax if I file my Form 1040 by January 31, 1979?

A. Taxpayers who file their 1978 Form 1040 by January 31, 1979, and who pay any balance due with the return or have no balance due, are not required to pay their last installment of their estimated tax. If you do not plan to file your return by January 31 then you must pay the last installment on January 15.

Q. After selling my old residence and purchasing a new home this year, I find that I am being transferred to another state to work and I will be acquiring another new residence. All of this is happening during the 18-month replacement period for buying a new home. What gains will be taxable for me and which gains may be deferred?

A. The gain from the first residence sold must be deferred to the last residence purchased during the 18-month replacement period. The gain from the second residence sold will be fully taxable in the year sold. IRS Publication 523, "Tax Information on Selling or Purchasing Your Home," contains more details and is available free at your local IRS office.

About Your Health

Tubal Ligation

This material is produced by the California Medical Education and Research Foundation, prepared and edited by physician members of the California Medical Assn.

For the woman who is absolutely certain that she does not want to have any more children, a reliable means to assure this is through a surgical procedure called tubal ligation. This operation involves tying and cutting the tubes which carry the egg from the ovary to the womb. Since the fertilization of the egg by the male sperm normally takes place in the tube, the purpose of tubal ligation is to prevent the woman's egg from being exposed to male sperm; thus there is no opportunity for pregnancy to occur. It should be noted, however, that there are failures to terminate fertility in a small percentage of cases of tubal ligation.

Tubal ligation is often done at the time of delivery or within 24 hours after a woman has had a baby. At that time the uterus is still enlarged and the tubes, attached at the top of the uterus, are high in the abdomen. The surgeon makes a small incision in the abdomen and rather readily reaches the tubes. He or she cuts out a portion in the middle of the tube and ties off both ends, thus making sure there is no longer a passageway for the egg to reach the womb.

If the surgery is performed immediately after childbirth, the procedure usually requires that the patient remain in the hospital only a day or two longer than she ordinarily would. If her baby is delivered by cesarean section, tubal ligation is carried out using the same abdominal incision with no extension of the hospital stay required.

If the timeing of the operation is not related to the delivery of a baby, the tubes are fairly low in the pelvis, and the surgeon may choose to reach them through an incision at the top of the vagina or through a very small incision in the lower abdomen. He/she then follows the same procedure of tying the tubes and removing a portion.

Another way to perform tubal sterilization is by laparoscopic cauterization ("laparscopy"). A viewing instrument called a laparoscope is inserted into the pelvic area through a small incision just beneath the umbilicus (navel), a small operating instrument is inserted through a small incision on the side of the abdomen. With the use of electric current, the operating instrument, under direct vision, burns the tubes, causing permanent blockage.

No matter what technique is used, a tubal ligation is not considered a dangerous procedure and usually does not require a long hospital stay. It should not, however, be undertaken lightly. All surgical procedures carry with them some measure of risk — from bleeding, infection, poor healing or alverse reaction to anesthesia or medication, Fortunately, such problems are not common.

Perhaps a more profound reason to think carefully before deciding on a tubal ligation is that its results usually cannot be changed. Once the tubes are cut, the woman will probably never have another child. She must be ready to accept that fact. The finality of the acts means that she should think carefully about it in advance and should discuss it thoroughly with her husband and physician.

On the other hand, the woman who has decided to undergo the procedure should be reassured that the operation will cause no changes in her general health, her response to sexual intercourse, her menstrual cycle or her menopause.

A case can be made both for and against tubal ligation, depending on the individual circumstances. There are many other means of birth control for the woman who is concerned only with spacing her pregnancies. Some women, however, have serious problems with contraceptive pills and intrauterine devices and dislike the other forms of contraception.

If the decision is made to deal with the problem surgically, there is the choice of tubal ligation for the woman or vasectomy for the man. Neither surgical procedure interferes with the couple's future sexual activities.

Vasectomy (a tube-cutting procedure which interferes with the transmittal of sperm) is an office, rather than a hospital, procedure. The risk of complicatiions is less and the procedure is more economical than tubal ligation. Some men, however, have a deep seated psychlogical resistance to a vasectomy, and others may be advised by their doctors not to undergo it for various reasons.

Christmas is for toy fire engines.

Not real ones.

So here are a few holiday safety tips from SDG&E.

More fires break out at Christmas time than any other time of year. Most can be prevented.
But many are caused by faulty Christmas lighting, and carelessness with holiday cooking. So, be on the safe side, read these holiday safety tips. Cut along the dotted line and pin them up where everyone in the family will see and read them. Entertain friends and family, not the fire brigade.

HOLIDAY SAFETY TIPS

Octopus outlets have no place in your holiday plans. In short, don't put all your Christmas plugs in one outlet, or you may have a very short Christmas.

Don't use indoor fixtures or lights outside. Be sure they're UL approved for use outdoors. Rain, dew and moisture can cause shorts and leave Santa in a fine fix.

Don't hang wires over TV antennas or guy wires for TV antennas or any other outdoor wiring. A home that's a blaze of decorative lights is one thing. A home that's ablaze is quite another.

If you have an electric range, make sure it's clean and free of grease before you start your heavy holiday cooking.

If you have a gas range, make sure the burners are cleaned and there is no grease or other materials on the burners that could ignite.

Check the range pilot light to make certain there is no grease or other matter clogging it.

Watch open flames on the gas range carefully to make sure no curtains, towels, pot holders, aprons or other materials could possibly be blown on or near the flame.

If you have a fireplace, don't forget to open the damper before you start a fire. Make sure that there is nothing flammable placed near the fireplace. That goes for both gas fireplace logs and natural wood logs.

Don't wait for Santa to bring you a portable fire extinguisher. Get one well in advance of Christmas, and keep it handy.

Symphony to Present Holiday Gala Program

The San Diego Symphony Orchestra will feature Xylophonist Tatsuo Sasaki in the "Gala Holiday Programs" scheduled for the Civic Theatre at 8 p.m. tonight and tomorrow and at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday.

These holiday season performances will be under the baton of Associate Conductor Charles Ketcham, and also feature the San Diego Symphonic Chorale, the St. Paul's Choristers and the San Diego Boy's Choir.

Tatsuo Sasaki, a native of Japan and graduate of the Tokyo University of the Arts with a B.A. degree in music, is one of the San Diego Symphony's youngest principals.

Sasaki is a former Fulbright Scholar at New York's famed Juilliard School; studied tympani with Saul Goodman, Principal Tympanist with the New York Philharmonic and xylophone with the noted soloist, Yoichi Hiraoka.

Tickets for the symphony Gala Holiday Concerts are priced at $11, $10, $9 and $7 and on sale now at the Center Box Office, 212 "C" st., and all Select-A-Seat locations. Phone the box office at 236-6510.

PTA Receives Stop Signs

Stop signs for the Bancroft-Kenwood intersection have been approved by the San Diego Traffic Advisory Committee, said Dr. William Scheel, principal of Spring Valley Elementary, at a recent P.T.A. meeting.

Members of the P.T.A. also announced plans to hold a "pixie bazaar" on December 12 and 13 in the school cafetorium. The bazaar allows students to choose from more than 3,000 hand made items at nominal prices, to give as Christmas gifts.

Her physicians described the surgery as a routine procedure, and it is expected she will be released within a week for further recovery at home.

Hospital to Dedicate Second 'Care-A-Van'

Grossmont Hospital dedicated a new Care-a-Van yesterday on the hospital grounds.

The public is invited to the ceremony which will be held outdoors between the physical and mental rehabilitation units on the hospital grounds.

The $15,000 van has been purchased by the Grossmont Hospital Auxiliary which also provides volunteer drivers for the service. Non-emergency patients and their families who have no other means of transportation are provided the service at no charge.

Approximately 13 trips a day are made with the van to transport an average of 47 passangers throughout the east San Diego city and county district of 750 square miles.

Named Care-a-Van II, the new vehicle is equipped with a retractable wheelchair side life.

Take up to 365 days to say good-bye.

Good-bye can mean more than a peck on the cheek when you take advantage of the Army's Delayed Entry Program.

Good-bye can mean 365 days to finish unfinished business, plan your future, spend one more season on the beach or the slopes, before you go off to tackle the world.

But the best part of Delayed Entry lies ahead. By enlisting now, then relaxing and reporting for duty later, the Army can promise you the skill training you want more than any other—training that's often hard to find in civilian life.

Delayed Entry also lets you pick the place you want to spend a good part of your time in the Army—Hawaii, Korea, the Canal Zone, Europe or Alaska.

Say hello to your Army Recruiter. Soon you could be saying a lot of sweet good-byes.

'A Christmas Carol' Is Theatre Stage Fare

The San Diego Repertory Theatre will present Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" at the unique downtown theater beginning tonight and running through December 30.

An original comic adaptation by Douglas Jacobs, this is the third annual production of the holiday classic.

In 1843, Dickens visited the mines of Cornwall to view the child labor situation. Children as young as 6 or 7 were forced to work 15 to 18 hours a day in the mines. Dickens originally planned to write a pamphlet denouncing the situation.

Instead he decided to write "A Christmas Carol." He had hoped to draw some attention to the plight of the poor. reawaken interest in the old Christmas traditions, write a best-seller the public would take to its heart, and make a lot of money.

Tiny Tim became a symbol to millions of readers, Christmas traditions once again became important and Dickens' mutual love affair with his public peaked.

However, he failed to make money from the book; he had insisted that it be published in a beautifully-bound edition that ate up most of the profits from the book.

Directed by Sam Woodhouse, music and dancing help tell this heart-warming comic ghost story. A cast of 14 brings alive 60 of Dickens' colorful characters.

The 90-minute play will be performed nightly Tuesday through Friday and on Sunday at the theatre at 1620 6th ave.

Tickets are $5 for all performances and a special discount is offered to children, students, senior citizens and enlisted military.

Reservations phone is 231-3585.

Bicyclists Urged To Register As Soon As Possible

California's million-plus bicyclists are being advised by the Department of Motor Vehicles to avoid the year-end rush by registering their bicycles as soon as possible.

Current registration expires on December 31, 1978.

Chuck Campana, manager of the Bicycle Renewal Program, said state law requires bicycles to be registered in those cities and counties that have a bike ordinance.

"DMV's sole responsibility in the program is to supply licenses and registration stickers to those municipalities with bike ordinances. Eighty-five percent of the State's cities and counties participate in the bicycle registration program," Campana said.

Since the law went into effect in 1974, the department has furnished local agencies with almost two million stickers.

The renewal sticker is valid for three years and will expire on December 31, 1981. The cost varies from community to community and bike owners should contact their local county administration center or city hall for further information on the cost and availability of the stickers.

According to Campana, the registration program has been a deterrent in the theft of bicycles. "Many law enforcement agencies report bikes with registration stickers that have been stolen and later recovered have a much better chance of being returned to their rightful owner," he added.

Local agencies who issue bike registration stickers must by law record the owner's name, address, license number, serial number, make, type, and model of the bicycle.

Cleveland Forest Reopened to Public

Cleveland National Forest Supervisor Fritz deHoll announced that the fire closure in effect since August 16, has been lifted. The areas which had been closed to public entry included portions of the Santa Ana and Palomar Mountain areas.

"However," said deHoll, "several roads on all 3 districts are now closed to protect the public safety and resources."

Black Star Canyon rd. and Skyline dr., which are county roads within the Trabuco District are closed as well as parts of the Main Divide rd. and less travelled roads. On the Palomar District the Upper Santa Ysabel rd. is now too narrow to traverse and part of the mountain has slid onto the road. Other roads around Palomar Mountain are occasionaly open and closed, depending on weather conditions. Anderson and Sheep Head roads on the Descanso District are also closed.
